

3D TIGER HABITAT CHRISTMAS CARD

The beautiful, awe-inspiring tiger is one of our planet's most iconic animals. But wild tiger numbers dropped by more than 95% since the beginning of the 20th century. Now, for the first time in conservation history, their numbers are on the increase.

We aim to help double the number of wild tigers to over 6,000 by 2022 – the next Chinese year of the tiger. Help celebrate tigers with these fun craft ideas.

What you need

Instructions

1. Fold the green or white card in half and cut straight lines from the folded edge to about 1cm from the edge on the other side of the card. Repeat 6 times.
2. Fold half the strips towards you and half the strips away from you and sharpen the edges.
3. Cut bits of green paper or felt into branch and leaf shapes and glue them onto the front.
4. Decorate your tiger and glue it on the inside of the strips folding away from you.
5. Research some amazing tiger facts and write them on the back of your card. Send your card to a friend so they know how brilliant tigers are!
